

Leading a non profit organisation as CEO or part of the senior management team requires a special kind of person; someone of exceptional talent and personal integrity.

TPP CEO & Trustee are dedicated specialists in executive recruitment for the not for profit sector and have the knowledge and contacts to help you reach these talented individuals. We excel in headhunting and executive search for charities and international development organisations.

As a charity executive search firm, we have an excellent track record of both national and international success in placing senior professionals in interim, contract and permanent roles across all job disciplines.

Disciplines we cover

- CEO / Executive Director
- Trustee / Non-exec Director

“I just wanted to say thank you to you and your team for all your work on reaching out to access some really great applicants. I know that all those shortlisted commented on the process positively and that is a brilliant reflection on the work that your team put in to get the process right. I think process is everything and this was a really robust process from start to finish.”
