

1. Ambition's shares are ASX listed, and the company is subject to the Listing Rules of the ASX. The rules relating to continuous disclosure obligations are dealt with in Chapter 3 of the ASX Listing Rules.
2. Where we become aware of any information concerning the company that might reasonably be expected to have an impact on the price or value of our shares, then we will immediately give that information to the ASX.
3. Examples of information requiring disclosure include:
  - a material change to previously released financial forecasts
  - recommendation or declaration of a dividend or distribution
  - giving or receiving a notice of intention to make a takeover
  - a material agreement between the company and a director
4. The Company Secretary is responsible for making announcements to the ASX upon receiving approval for release from the Chairman or the Board of Directors.
5. Employees of the company are not permitted to make public announcements on any matter without the prior approval of the Chairman or Group Managing Director.
6. Briefings to analysts or investors shall only be made by the Chairman, and only following an assessment of the information to be disclosed at the briefing. Information that is reasonably considered to be price sensitive shall be released to the market upon commencement of the briefing.
7. The Company Secretary or Chairman must be immediately advised where price sensitive information is inadvertently disclosed.