Welcome

Dear applicant,

I’m delighted that you have chosen to apply for the role of Director of Income Generation at Tenovus Cancer Care. As Wales’ leading cancer charity, our strategy pivots around five key aims – to prevent cancer in the first place, to fund research so cancer can be better diagnosed and treated, to provide support to people affected by cancer, to represent the needs of cancer patients and their loved ones, and to develop our committed and engaged team.

Cancer is a global issue. The World Health Organisation estimated that 9.6 million people died from cancer in 2018, and that figure is set to rise. Closer to home, in the UK and Wales, around 360,000 and 19,000 people respectively are diagnosed with and die from cancer annually. Every year, we are seeing more people diagnosed, which can be linked to increased awareness of the signs and symptoms, and better diagnostic techniques.

But thankfully, due to earlier diagnosis and better treatment, we are also seeing more people survive. This means that there are large numbers living with and beyond cancer, and the impact and effects of this can last for years.

We are working towards a time when no one dies of cancer. We’ve funded research for over 50 years because we know it’s the key to improving diagnosis, treatment and care. And we’re there at every stage of the cancer journey to treat, care and support. Our services are free, and available to anyone who needs them for as long as they need them.

You’ll be joining us at an exciting time in our history. I joined Tenovus Cancer Care in May this year, and I am determined to build on the great work that has gone before, and that includes growing our income so that we can increase our reach and impact.

If you feel energised by the prospect of joining us, we would love to hear from you. You will be joining a great body of motivated and determined staff and volunteers in an organisation with a collaborative, friendly culture and a wonderful team spirit.

If you would like an informal, confidential conversation, please contact our retained consultant Ben Pountney at Harris Hill who will arrange this for you.

We look forward to receiving your application.

Best wishes,

Judi Rhys

CEO, Tenovus Cancer Care

Background
Tenovus Cancer Care was founded in 1943 by ten businessmen as a charity to fund a wide range of projects in the south Wales area, such as building the Sunshine House for Blind Babies near Cardiff, to donating a washing machine to a widow with seven children who had lost an arm.

In the 1960s, Tenovus Cancer Care built the Tenovus Institute for Cancer Research in Cardiff which carried out vital research into the causes of cancer. Since then, the charity has concentrated on cancer and is recognised for its pioneering work including its scientists’ development of the use of Tamoxifen, used worldwide to treat breast cancer, and Zoladex, which is also used worldwide to treat prostate cancer.

In 2009, they developed their innovative Mobile Support Unit. Tenovus Cancer Care now has 3 units, with a 4th on the way, which bring cancer care to the heart of the patient’s community, across all of Wales.

In 2011, Tenovus Cancer Care conducted research into the benefits of singing for cancer patients and their families. The results were so positive that they applied for funding to set up more choirs and were awarded a £1m Big Lottery Grant to set up 15 Sing with Us choirs across Wales. These have now spread to England.

2012 saw the launch of Tenovus Cancer Callback; a world-first service which offers newly diagnosed cancer patients a series of regular calls from an experienced nurse.

In 2014 Tenovus Cancer Care partnered with Prostate Cancer UK and Movember to launch the ManVan – bringing support to men affected by prostate and testicular cancer in Wales. The same year, the organisation launched a refreshed brand and a new name Tenovus Cancer Care – to allow more people to know who they are and seek support if affected by cancer.

In 2015 they celebrated 50 years of cancer research and undertook research with the Royal College of Music in London to investigate whether singing in one of their choirs had positive biological effects. The results were encouraging and have the potential for much further research.

2018 marked the organisation’s 75th birthday and an incredibly exciting time in the organisation’s development and growth.

Calls have more than doubled since 2012, growing to c 10,000 per annum. They also operate a proactive call back service enabling them to support patients during and after their treatment.
- A team of Cancer Support Advisors who help with claiming grants and benefits for those with cancer. Managing financially is the biggest worry people have when they are diagnosed with cancer. - 18 choirs for those affected by cancer, with 1,500 members singing weekly right across Wales and in London, in a fun, fulfilling and supportive environment for patients and their families.
