

Because Learning Is Life Long.

In these uncertain times Wagstaff Recruitment is looking to support the people in our local communities. Our communities like many across the UK, include employers with employees and individuals who find themselves either furloughed or long term unemployed.

Like any responsible business, we also keenly focus on the welfare of our own team, ensuring they still feel their value and purpose whilst also being mindful of their mental wellbeing whilst working from home.

Wagstaff Recruitment and Wagstaff Careers Coaching have seen a significant increase in demand, particularly since the outbreak of the Covid pandemic.

To help and support as many individuals as possible, Wagstaff has now taken the decision to provide our 1-2-1 three session guidance programs free of charge.

We proactively focus on the areas where the person's needs are the greatest, be that their CV, looking after their mental health whilst job seeking, preparing for interviews, networking with relevant hiring managers, or any other part of the back to work process.

In addition, online webinars will be launched in May, and once lockdown restrictions have eased, group workshops will be run from our purpose-built head office in Lichfield.

If you, or anyone you know is seeking careers support, or if you are a business who is facing having to make redundancies, we can tailor an outplacement service to look after you and your staff.

For more information, please visit our dedicated Careers Coaching website at www.wagstaffcareerscoaching.co.uk, or email our Managing Director Ruth Forster at ruth.forster@wagstaffrecruitment.co.uk to find out more.

Here for today. Here for tomorrow. Because learning truly is, lifelong.